Continuation of 2. NOTE: applicant has responded to the final Office Action by submitting solve set of claims which raise possible new issues under 35 USC 102.

Continuation of 10. Other: During the interview with applicant on 6/3/03 the examiner suggested the claims may be patentable over the prior art and that an allowance was possible barring any other patentability issues. However, it appears the three-rail launcher of the Brimstone anti-armor missile has a support structure including a top plate and rails rearwardly offset from each other.
